The R E A C H O U T

Gathering Rite for All Saints

The festival of All Saints occurs just as the landscape in the Northern Hemisphere heralds the dying of plants and the quiet of winter rest. In like manner, the readings and liturgy of this day call us to rejoice in all the saints: those who have died and now rest in Christ, those who live now, and those yet to come.

As the church year draws to a close, we hear warnings about the end of time, stories of crisis and judgment, and parables of loss and death. The Christian community speaks honestly about human frailty and mortality. At the same time, we confess our faith in the risen Lord, in the communion of saints, the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting. While both life and death may bring us fear and uncertainty, the liturgy calls us to hear the Lord's promise that he is with us in life and in death. Christ has claimed us in baptism and nourishes us in the communion of his body and blood. Christ leads us to the new Jerusalem. There we shall join all the saints in praise of God, who has turned our graves into the doorway to eternal life. (Sundays and Seasons Resources)

I live now in faith. What does that really mean? I can not remember a time when death scared me. Oh yes death has hurt me. It has shaken me to my core. I know that my redeemer lives and therefore death does not have the final say. I have hurt, but I have always had hope in the resurrection. I do not know what I would have ever done in my life without that faith or hope. My grandfather always pointed to his faith and hope and my father always talked about his faith and hope. It was never a discussion of the degrees of faith or the strength of faith. It was always a comment like, "Something will come along." "We had this happen before and we survived, we always get through." "We just do something else." I remember the last thing my grand father said before he lost all his mental abilities due to Alzheimer's. "Ralphie I am not sure about what happens next." Like a knee-jerk reaction, I said, "It is time to let Jesus carry us. Right?" And he replied, "I think so. I think so."

November 23

Flash forward to the day my dad died. His last words to me were, “How will I take my boys to lunch?” (meaning his grandsons) I said to him, it is time we take you to lunch dad. It is our turn. He said “That will not do” Then he said, “I really don’t know how to do this??” I said, “what dad, what don’t you know how to do?” He said this!!!! I said, your mean die? He said yes, I don’t know how to die!? And I said in the same knee-jerk, “Dad we are not supposed to know that. We are supposed to live. We only know how to live and we are to focus on living. Jesus will come to you and take you through death to life.” Then my dad said, “Wow! Give me a minute. That hit hard. Okay go home and get some sleep and I will see you tomorrow. I love you.” Folks, what makes that weird is that my father never said I love you. When I graduated seminary, I would say I love you to him and he would fumble through, you too.

Why do I bring all this up?? Hebrew 11:1¹ Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen. We need to always be talking to all people about our faith or trust. ²⁸We know that all things work together for good for those who love God, who are called according to his purpose. Romans 8:28. We have to cling to it all we have or hope to have. God is right there and Christ is coming to carry you or take you to himself. The Holy Spirit helps you to put in to words what you need to pray and what you need to witness to those around you. You are not alone and ¹God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Psalm 46:1 We need to encourage one another. Some times the burden is more then we can bare so we need the help of others to remind us God is our fortress and our strength. ²The LORD is my rock, my fortress, and my deliverer, my God, my rock in whom I take refuge, my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold. Psalms 18:2

What do you think? Did God bring you all this way to forsake you or leave you? No, God will carry you and lead you and, in the end, will pick you up and save you. Christ will take you to ever lasting life. Amen!!

Dear God, I lift this congregation to you in service of love and knowledge of the truth. May we share with those around us our courage and strength. Bless us as we share with our neighbors our blessings of plenty. Let us be always thankful for our bounty and gifts. Help us to see the joy in our lives. As each and every day we live in you and you live in us. Barbara Hartsock reminded me you abide in us. God bless us and please take care of those who are alone. Amen.

Pastor Ralph

Abide with Me

- 1 Abide with me, fast falls the eventide.
The darkness deepens; Lord, with me abide.
When other helpers fail and comforts flee, help of the helpless, oh, abide with me.
- 2 I need thy presence ev'ry passing hour;
what but thy grace can foil the tempter's pow'r?
Who like thyself my guide and stay can be?
Through cloud and sunshine, oh, abide with me.
- 3 Swift to its close ebbs out life's little day;
earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass away;
change and decay in all around I see;
O thou who changest not, abide with me.
- 4 I fear no foe, with thee at hand to bless;
ills have no weight, and tears no bitterness.
Where is death's sting? Where, grave, thy victory?
I triumph still, if thou abide with me!
- 5 Hold thou thy cross before my closing eyes,
shine through the gloom, and point me to the skies;
heav'n's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee;
in life, in death, O Lord, abide with me.

Text: Henry F. Lyte, 1793-1847

This is snippet of the Bishop's farewell letter to us all:

A little over four years ago, I was sitting with a group of bishops in a public relations seminar in Washington, D.C., in preparation for one of our ELCA Advocacy Convenings. The following day we would be meeting with legislators on Capitol Hill to seek their support for immigration reform and other human rights issues. In that seminar, the speaker emphasized the importance of regular communication with the people of our synod. It was essential to keep our people informed.

That seminar inspired me to begin this weekly effort as a way of staying in touch with you, the people of God in this corner of God's kingdom. And to use an old cliché, I have never looked back.

Now, more than 200 Musings later (212 by my count), I bring this weekly offering to a close.

My heart is filled with gratitude. I am thankful for so many things that if I were to list them all, "the world itself could not contain the books that would be written." Okay, I borrowed that last phrase from the Gospel according to John (Jn. 21:25), but I truly am grateful beyond measure.

I confess that these years have not been all joy. There were times of overwhelming frustration, despair, and loneliness; but in the final analysis, the joys far outweigh the challenges I've experienced in this ministry, and I leave with pleasant memories and a feeling of delight.

One of my anchor verses is found in Paul's first letter to the Thessalonians: "Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you." [1 Thessalonians 5:16-18]

I feel blessed to have been called to this office; to have been given the care of the pastors, deacons, and congregations of the Northeastern Ohio Synod for the past six-plus years; to have served as your bishop; and to have been given the privilege of communicating to you through this medium and in this fashion. It is truly one of the greatest earthly honors that God could have conferred on me.

My writing will resurface somewhere in some form or fashion. But for now, I say farewell and God's blessings.

+ + +

I close with a prayer for the Church. It can be found in our Evangelical Lutheran Worship, page 73.

Gracious Father, we pray for your holy catholic church. Fill it with all truth and peace. Where it is corrupt, purify it; where it is in error, direct it; where in anything it is amiss, reform it; where it is right, strengthen it; where it is in need, provide for it; where it is divided, reunite it; for the sake of Jesus Christ, your Son, our Lord. Amen.

DATE	EVENT	COLOR	READINGS	INTRODUCTION
November 1st	All Saints Day	white	Revelation 7: 9-17 Psalm 34: 1-10, 22 1 John 3: 1-3 Matthew 5: 1-12	All Saints celebrates the baptized people of God, living and dead, who are the body of Christ. As November heralds the dying of the landscape in many northern regions, the readings and liturgy call us to remember all who have died in Christ and whose baptism is complete. At the Lord's table we gather with the faithful of every time and place, trusting that the promises of God will be fulfilled and that all tears will be wiped away in the new Jerusalem.
November 8th	23rd Sunday after Pentecost	green	Amos 5: 18-24 Psalm 70 1Thessalonians 4:13-18 Matthew 25: 1-13	Today the prophet Amos calls for justice to roll down like waters. Paul urges us to encourage one another with the promised coming of the Lord. Jesus tells the parable of the wise and foolish bridesmaids. Surrounded by the faithful of every time and place, we celebrate Christ's coming in our midst in the word of life and the feast of victory—the marriage feast of the lamb.
November 15th	24th Sunday after Pentecost	green	Zephaniah 1: 7, 12-18 Psalm 90: 1-12 1Thessalonians 5: 1-11 Matthew 25: 14-30	Our readings during November speak of the end times. Zephaniah proclaims that the coming day of the LORD will be filled with wrath and distress. Paul says it will come like a thief in the night and urges us to be awake and sober. Jesus tells the parable of the talents, calling us to use our gifts, while we still have time, for the greater and common good. In a world filled with violence and despair, we gather around signs of hope—word, water, bread, and wine—eager to welcome the good news of Christ's coming among us.
November 22nd	Christ The King	white	Ezekiel 34:11-16, 20-24 Psalm 95: 1-7a Ephesians 1: 15-23 Matthew 25: 31-46	On this final Sunday of the church year our gospel is Jesus' great story of judgment. In the end, the faithful are those who served Christ by ministering to those who are poor, hungry, naked, sick, or estranged. In the first reading God is the shepherd who seeks the lost, weak, and injured and feeds them with justice. We gather this day to celebrate the reign of Christ and his victory over death, yet we await the consummation of all things yet to come. Acknowledging Christ as our merciful ruler, we go forth that his reign may be known in our loving words and deeds.
November 29th	1st Sunday Of Advent	blue	Isaiah 64: 1-9 Psalm 80: 1-7, 17-19 1Corinthians 1: 3-9 Mark 13: 24-37	Stir up your power, and come! The psalmist's plea in Psalm 80:2 has become familiar to us in the Advent prayers. Isaiah wants God to rip the heavens open. Both cry out for an apparently distant, angry God to show up, to save, to restore. When we hear Jesus describing the coming of the Son of Man with stars falling from heaven, it can sound dire and horrible, not like anything we would ever hope for. But when we really look at the suffering of people God loves, we can share the hope that God would tear open the heavens and come.

Special Notes

Greetings,

We are once again being given the opportunity to provide Christmas presents to nursing home residents who don't have families or friends in town - or at all - and therefore would not receive personalized gifts this holiday season. In this year of uncertainty, quarantines, and canceled fellowship opportunities, it's more important than ever to remember our older neighbors who have worked all their lives, raised families, and are now living a lonely existence as shut-ins.

If you are interested in purchasing gifts, please leave a message at Good Hope Lutheran Church (330) 549-2406, or email g.lutheran@sbcglobal.net.

Thank you,
Kathy Kramer, project coordinator

We will not be using salt on the new pavement this year. We will be using sand instead. Please watch for slippery spots when crossing the parking lot.

Reminder: Please practice social distancing from other families when attending church. If you do not feel well, or have been around others who are ill, please stay home. Take care!
